STEP 5:

Attach the finished center "lid" inside the ring, so that it looks like the middle of a sunflower.

STEP 6:

Glue the wooden dowel "stem" to the back of the sunflower.

INSTRUCTIONS:

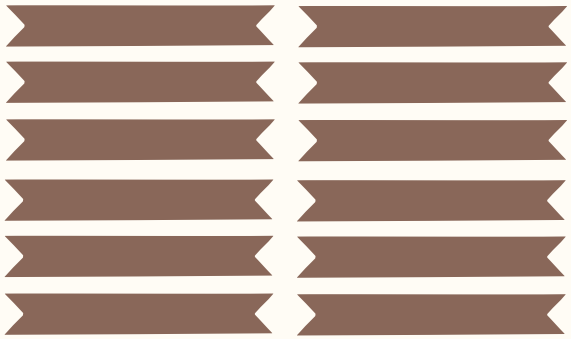

STEP 1:

Cut your primary ribbon into (6) 8 inch strips. Cut them in half again the long way. You will finish with (12) 8 inch strips.

Perfection in length and cutting is not the goal here. Flowers are imperfect.

STEP 2:

Repeat Step 1 with your secondary ribbon or burlap. You will finish with (6) 8 inch pieces.

STEP 3:

Tie your ribbons around the jar ring. Tie two of your primary ribbons, then add a secondary ribbon (or burlap), then repeat around.

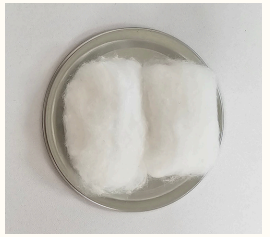

Don't worry if the ribbons tie at slightly different lengths - this works perfectly for petals. While you can glue them down, this is not necessary because they will stay in place once the middle is secured.

STEP 4:

Take your lid and glue 3 cotton balls on the "right" side.

STEP 4:

Center your lid on your fabric square with the cotton side down. Fold the fabric like you are wrapping a gift and glue as you go to secure it.
